It’s More Than Puppy Love
Why GDA Puppy Raisers Decided to Give of their Hearts and Homes

GDA is extremely fortunate to have and is grateful for our puppy raisers, a dedicated group of 200-plus volunteers actively raising puppies at any given time, with many more who have previously raised one or several puppies, while others are waiting to welcome home their first. The question most often asked of puppy raisers is, “How can you give him/her up?” The answer to that question can be found in the “why.” We asked our puppy raisers to share with us why they decided to raise a GDA puppy. While each person or family has their personal reason, at the core is a desire to help the blind men and women who come to GDA to learn to work with and care for a guide dog and enjoy greater independence and mobility. Several of the many responses and photos are included here.

If, by reading this, you want to learn more about becoming a puppy raiser, we encourage you to visit our website (www.guidedogsofamerica.org/1/programs/puppy-raising/) to learn more about the program and the areas in which we have puppy raiser groups.

“When our son Collin was 15, he told me he wanted to raise a guide dog puppy. We went to a meeting and a puppy raiser, who was about ready to turn in his dog to GDA, came to the front of the room and talked about the experience. The tears welled up a bit in my eyes. I looked over at Collin and he had tears streaming down his cheeks. I leaned over and whispered, ‘We can’t do this. We’re a mess and it’s not even our dog.’ He looked at me and said, ‘Mom, I know I’ll cry when it’s our dog but if a blind person gets to go out and have freedom and independence because of the dog I raised, then this is what I want to do.’ We are currently raising Wellesley, our sixth dog for GDA.”
—— Janice Hart

“When I first saw a GDA puppy-in-training out in the community my heart leapt! I knew it would be a unique opportunity to combine my love of animals with a chance to model for my young children how to make a difference in someone else's life. They had been begging for a dog, promising to help. 'We will raise a guide dog puppy and, if you follow through on your promise to help, then afterward we can get a permanent pet dog,' was my response. After we raised our first GDA puppy, Jubilee, I said to them, 'OK, you did what you said you’d do and pitched in. Now do you want to get a pet dog or raise another GDA puppy?' ‘Raise another GDA puppy!’ was the unanimous response that day and each time since, for the next 13 puppies!”
—— Cindy Miller

“We did this because we wanted to give back just a bit of the goodness we have had during our lives. It is rewarding to see Cassidy grow and knowing that when I look in her brown eyes they may be someone else’s someday.”
—— Alison Schooley

Mission Statement
Guide Dogs of America is dedicated to its mission to provide guide dogs and instruction in their use, free of charge, to blind and visually impaired men and women from the United States and Canada so that they may continue to pursue their goals with increased mobility and independence.
"I became a puppy raiser almost 30 years ago after I attended a graduation with my Brownie troop. Sixteen little Brownie Girl Scouts looked up at me and asked, ‘Can we raise a puppy?’ It became more than raising a puppy, it became a way of life and, suddenly, we have welcomed the 30th puppy into our home; richer for the family, friendships and love found along the way.”

— Bob and Pam English

“I came across the GDA website and I thought wouldn’t it be wonderful to help a blind person by raising a guide dog. As sighted individuals, we take many things for granted; raising a puppy has made my family and me imagine the challenges a blind person has to go through in daily life. This wonderful four-legged companion can brighten a person’s life by helping them in every way! It also teaches the power of giving for a good cause.”

— Kiran Ingale

“When I was a young teen, I read a novel from 1962 called Light a Single Candle. In it, a 14-year-old girl loses her sight to glaucoma and eventually gets a German Shepherd guide dog. I loved this book, and it lodged the idea of raising a guide dog puppy in my head. Fast forward about 25 years, and I see a GDA van drive by me in Burbank. A lightbulb went off. I went to the GDA website, filled out the application and am now raising Ferris (who is 11 months)! It’s been a wonderful experience, and my plan is to continue raising puppies for GDA.”

— Erin Kelly-Park

“I first had an interest in working dogs in my 20s. I’m soon to be 65 and I am grateful to be able to work with Guide Dogs of America and volunteer as a puppy raiser.”

— Debbie Cross

“My husband had a medical issue that caused him to temporarily lose a significant amount of his vision. His vision was restored but he learned, first-hand, what the loss of vision means to a person’s mobility and involvement in social, entertainment and learning activities. He thought at the time that it would be helpful to raise a puppy that might become a guide dog. After attending several graduations and meetings, we decided that we would apply to become puppy raisers and, soon, we became united with our and beloved GDA puppy, Sherlock.”

— Roberta and Dale Cipra

“My husband and I were retired and went to breakfast when a young man came in with a GDA puppy with a little jacket on. I asked him some questions, and he gave me a card from GDA. I had thought about being a puppy raiser for a long time. So, I called GDA, signed up to be a puppy raiser and a few months later got Buddy. Since then, we have raised nine more puppies.”

— Linda Barber

“My husband and I chose to raise a puppy from GDA because we wanted to teach our children to give to others. This is our third puppy and the second with our children. It was one of the greatest lessons of selflessness to give ‘our puppy’ up to be someone else’s eyes. This is a lesson that cannot be taught with words. The values our children are learning through puppy raising are invaluable. The bonus is all the puppy love.”

— Robyn and Will Reinhart

“When I was on spring break from college in 1966, I visited Morristown, N.J., and saw dogs in harnesses being trained, walking around the town. When I retired in 2010, I thought about that visit and decided that raising a puppy might be fun. It was a lot of hard work but the satisfaction of seeing our puppy, Asia, succeed as a guide dog made it all worth it. She is five years old now and has bonded so well with her partner. They are an inspiration to us all.”

Donor Spotlight
Bill and Pam McDonald Giving Their All to GDA

For GDA Partners in Trust Bill and Pam McDonald, it took only one visit to GDA to know they wanted to offer their financial support to the school. “We attended Open House, and it just hit me. Watching the guide dog demos and the puppies-in-training and starting up conversations with students and hearing how having a guide dog has changed their life,” Pam McDonald said. “I had a lump in my throat and a tear in my eye the whole time I was there. I was so touched.”

The couple became donors in 1996 and in 2008 they became Partners in Trust. “Everything is going to GDA. The entire estate,” Pam McDonald said. “What better way to have our estate live on? Our gift will help the school continue its work with these beautiful animals and to make such a difference in the lives of those who receive them. I feel really peaceful about our choice.”

Several years ago, after they had already been donating to GDA, Pam McDonald had a serious staph infection in her eye, which left her unable to see for several months. Fortunately, the ophthalmologist was able to save her cornea, but the experience gave her a deeper understanding of how difficult it is to be independent when you cannot see. “It really helped me understand what not having a guide dog would mean to someone with a vision loss,” she said. “Not only in how the dog helps you move through the world, but the companionship they provide. If I didn’t have my personal dogs during that period, I would have gone crazy.”

McDonald has introduced several of her friends to GDA by bringing them to Open Houses, and many have donated after their visit. “I think if someone experiences GDA the way I did the first time, they will understand what a difference their contribution will make. A guide dog gives a blind person’s life back to them,” Pam McDonald said. “GDA is a legitimate charity, and I am so happy that our support of the organization will continue through our estate. I cannot think of a better cause and I don’t think there is any better group than Guide Dogs of America.”

For information about becoming a Partner in Trust, please contact Rhonda Bissell at (818) 833-6432.

Partners in Trust
Make your gift to Guide Dogs of America last a lifetime and beyond. The Partners in Trust Society was established by GDA as a way to recognize and honor the generosity of those who have included the school in their planned giving. Providing life income gifts and bequests lets your gift continue working beyond your lifetime to help others achieve their goals with increased mobility and independence through a partnership with a loyal and loving guide dog. Charitable organizations are not subject to gift or estate taxes so your gift continues to support the causes close to your heart, like Guide Dogs of America, without being diminished by the IRS.

You will receive our special “Partners In Trust” crystal jar as a way of thanking you that you can display proudly, knowing the difference you are making in the lives of others through supporting Guide Dogs of America. Please call Rhonda Bissell at (818) 833-6432 for more information.

GDA Las Vegas Charity Event — Nov. 16-18

Mark your calendars for the annual Las Vegas Charity weekend Nov. 16-18. The weekend will kick-off on Thursday, Nov. 16, with the Hawgs for Dogs ride and the sporting clay event. Friday morning, foursomes will tee off at Angel Park Golf. The weekend will conclude on Saturday evening with the 37th-annual William W. Winpisinger Charity Banquet at The Paris Las Vegas Hotel & Casino. Invitations will be mailed early this summer, and details posted on the GDA website.
Summer is here, and it’s time to take in the great outdoors. Whether in your own city or neighborhood or enjoying a vacation away from home, there are plants and flowers that can cut the fun short.

“As a general rule, most beautiful blooms have adverse effects in dogs. Issues range from gastrointestinal signs, including vomiting and diarrhea, to neurologic and cardiac signs such as a stumbling, seizures and heart rhythm abnormalities,” said GDA Veterinarian Ainjil Bills. “For example, both azaleas and oleanders can cause heart failure.

Here is a list of just some of the common flora and fauna that can lead to health problems in dogs. Many are common sense — poison ivy and cactus — but there are others that may come as a surprise such as hydrangea and agapanthus.

Note that this is only a partial list that focuses on plants and flowers that have a summer season.

“Sago palm is not a summer bloom, but due to its extreme toxicity it is important that dog owners are aware of the danger it poses. When ingested, this palm can cause severe liver damage, even liver failure,” said Bills.

Always contact your vet if you think your dog has ingested or come in contact with the plants listed here or with something that you are unsure of. Your vet will be able to determine if the animal needs to be seen and treated or what kind of first aid should be administered.
